Dear Roger,

Lots of success to one of the best friends
I have ever had, and to the winner of the plaque for the "best scholar in the Varsity 's'."

I'll never forget the times you and I used to beat the devil out of Tony and Bill on the dear old Roosevelt courts.

I sure hate to see you graduate in January, but I know you'll make a success at Annapolis.

Jan. 27, 1944
Roger:

May your record at Annapolis be as fine & better than that you have established here. Norman J. Taylor

Roger! —
May you have all the luck in the world and you deserve plenty — your friend
— Esther —

I hope you'll make as good a "mistake" as you are a friend

Dear Roger.

In all that you do
may you meet success,
that's my wish for you.
Please think of me too — just Greenace in a while — a friend

JOHN ASELTINE, Principal

The School at War—January, 1944, found at San Diego High School about six hundred fewer pupils than in peace-time. Girl Hilltoppers outnumbered the boys about six to five. Most of the 18-year-old boys and many of the 17-year-olds had already gone to war. Many students were working on part-time jobs for school credit, but these and most of the others were more determined than ever to earn the coveted diploma of graduation. Many were carrying extra subjects in order to graduate ahead of time.

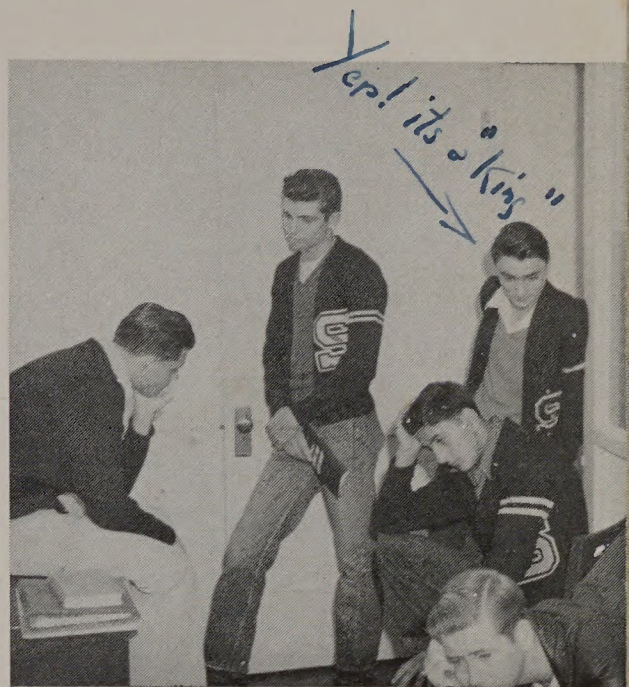

Science and mathematics were the most popular subjects on the program because the Army and the Navy needed technical specialists. ROTC and physical education took on new interest for boys. Only girls applied for admission to college; boys centered their hopes on the V-12 and A-12 tests.

Everyone at San Diego High School was trying to do his part to win the war.—John Aseltine, Principal . . . to the office . . .

The Boys—SDHS boys have made a splendid war-time response this semester to the demands of the armed forces as well as industry. Forty took the civilian qualifying test for the Army and Navy college training program, this number representing approximately three-fourths of the available Senior A boys, as about fifteen of the class are already inducted into the armed forces. Nearly three hundred boys helped to relieve the manpower shortage by working three or four hour shifts in industry. This all adds up to a very creditable contribution to the war effort.—W. J. Lyons, Vice Principal

The Girls—The war has brought to the high school girl the dilemma of discharging adequately her war-time responsibilities on the home-front, while at the same time preparing for a new and challenging post-war world. In active participation in school activities directing their programs towards war-time service, most girls have found their greatest satisfaction. Service, like all ideals, motivates the participant to develop certain individual qualities which make her more competent and effective as a person, as well as more intelligently considerate when carrying out her social and civic responsibilities. The girl of 1943 through service and by striving to attain worthy goals can live most adequately now and be assured of a worthy life in that inevitable but obscure new world of tomorrow.—Ruth Munsell, Dean

Associated Student Body—This semester has been a "Victory Semester" at the Gray Castle with emphasis on stamp and bond sales, and for its sales percentage the Castle qualified for the Treasury Flag. Main activity on the fall calendar was the Homecoming celebration November 19, honoring the classes of 1899, 1900, 1918, and 1933.

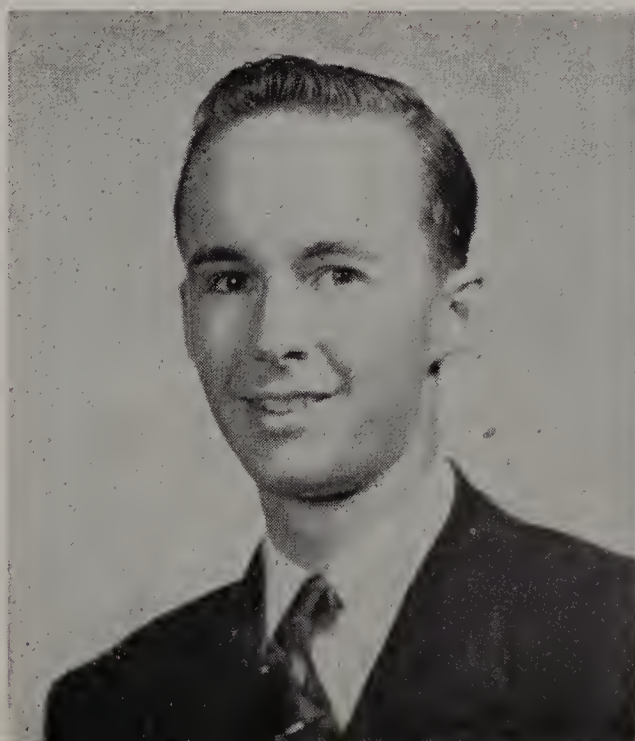

The outmoded A.S.B. constitution was taken in hand by the Council, and some major changes were made. The Council also conducted a "Clean Campus Campaign" to lighten the load of the custodial staff.—Tom Ables, President

The Russ—With the news that last semester's issues had again been awarded the title of Pacemaker by the NSPA, this semester's staff made a determined effort to keep up the high standards of the paper, despite a war-time shortage of reporters and supplies. Most important issue of the semester was the Homecoming edition honoring the class of 1899, 1900, 1918, and 1933.—Gordon Luce, Editor

Student Court—High school traffic offenders are tried Thursday mornings in the council room by the SDHS student court. This semester there was an increase of cases, with a record of 14 at one session. Sentences consisted of suspension of licenses and writing of 2000 word themes on safety.—Hudson Bowlby, Student Judge

Girls' League—The contributions of the girls to the war effort have been numerous. The usual sophomore welcome party of games and songs was turned into a festival of making scrapbooks for the boys of the naval hospital. The library committee worked hard all semester to make gay colored covers for stories cut out of current magazines for the hospital patients. The girls co-operated with the Red Cross in helping to fill and check the Junior Red Cross boxes. The social service committee with the help of the homerooms arranged to get a present for every boy and girl at the Children's Home. They also planned a party of entertainment and refreshments.—Joyce Greenbaum, President

Boys' Federation—After a summer spent at the beach and at Convair, the Cavemen settled down to a semester of activity. The Boys' Federation netted $146 in an enthusiastically supported penny drive for the American Red Cross. Of the total, $45 went toward completing the Red Cross Christmas boxes for servicemen and $98 was contributed to the San Diego Chapter of the Red Cross. Highlighting the semester were the Boys' Fed assembly and the Boys' Fed-Girls' League dance. The assembly was strictly a jam session by the SDHS Swing Band, while the dance was a gay affair with the guests in levis and prints. The decorations included a desert island on which many of the levi-attired boys longed to be marooned with the "Pistol Packin' Mama," Marjie Barchus.—Ronald Jones, President

Senior A's—Although the class of January '44, one of the smallest to be graduated from San Diego High School in some time, was hampered by many war-time restrictions, it had a full calendar of traditional activities. The class started the ball rolling by taking fourth period out October 14 for a get-together in the boys' gym. Five weeks later the seniors, with underclassmen, went to Glacier Gardens to slide and glide for their skating party. On December 2 Russ Auditorium was the scene of their highly successful class play, "Best Foot Forward," a collegiate comedy. Mothers were special guests at a tea served in their honor January 6 in the Little Theatre. On January 17 seniors forgot their studies for one day to spend their Ditch Day at Golden Hill Playground. Vesper service was held at the Unitarian Church. A double-header day was January 24 with Gift Day in the morning and, in the evening, the long-awaited Senior A Ball at Hotel del Coronado. Commencement in caps and gowns in Russ Auditorium January 28 climaxed the activities of the class of January '44.—Louis Botte, President

Underclassmen—In a year when many traditional activities did not appear on the ASB calendar, there was an unprecedented number of class activities.

Miss Phillippi and Mr. Davis, senior A advisers, took the senior B class under their wing. A class cabinet was formed; dues books were sold; and a skating party, dance, and get-together were organized. For the first time in recent years, a picture of the entire senior B class appeared in the annual. Senior A sweaters, rings, and pins were ordered.

Many members of the junior class were active in school groups so that during their senior year they will be prepared to take over the government of the school. The main activity of the class was the "Junior Jive," a dance and get-together. Entertainment was furnished by Juniors.

The sophomores appropriately named their dance, which they held the day before Thanksgiving, "The Turkey Trot." Guests of honor were half a dozen very realistic scarecrows.—Mary Belford, Senior B President

CSF—In dedicating itself to the war effort this semester, the California Scholarship Federation saved the profits of its sales to buy another war bond, did Red Cross work, arranged a program of services to help members join the Victory Corps, and also maintained its regular guide service for the school. The Ditch Day, held January 10, climaxed organization activities for the C.S.F.—Jim Seiler, President

Quill and Scroll—Winding up another successful semester, Gray Castle's journalistic elite laid plans for the fourth edition of The Lit Parade, Hilltop's literary magazine. They also gave birth to a highly promising campaign to promote letter-writing among Hilltoppers. Supper meetings were held once a month at the homes of members.—Don Carter, President

Officers' Club—The Officers' Club was organized to provide recreation for R.O.T.C. officers. This semester the energies of the club were devoted to the planning and presentation of the Military Ball, a traditional affair.—David Hume, President

Orchestra—The orchestra, under the direction of Nino Marcelli, was confronted this year with a serious "man-power" shortage because of the war; however, the high standards of previous orchestras were maintained.—Dominic Calabrese, President

Band—Under the direction of Mr. Marcelli, the band carried out its usual fall activities this semester. These included providing music for the home football games and drilling with the Sergeanettes at these games. The band also joined with the Sergeanettes and ROTC for the gigantic Navy Day program in the stadium in October.—Bob Bolam, President

Sergeanettes—Under the direction of Miss Kay Teer, the Sergeanettes performed for home football games. Their most elaborate drill, however, was presented at the Navy Day celebration.—Iona Rockwell, President

Junior Optimists—Camping trips, joint meetings, hay rides, progressive dinners, guest speakers, and basketball games have made up the program of the Junior Optimists this semester. Twenty dollars was spent by the group to fill boxes for the men at the Naval Hospital. Money was also raised by the selling of Christmas cards for the purchase of a service flag honoring old members now serving Uncle Sam.—Don Chapman, President

Girl Reserves—Meeting every two weeks, the G.R.'s have included among their activities this semester a splash party with Hoover, a pot-luck dinner, and a Christmas dance, the "Santa Shuffle."—Mary Helen Ramsey, President

Hi-Y Groups—The four Hi-Y groups at San Diego High School have this year, as in years past, been outstanding in promoting good fellowship. They include the Russ Hi-Y, whose members are of all grades; the San Diego Hi-Y, for seniors; the Gray Castle Hi-Y, for juniors; and the Hilltop Hi-Y, for sophomores. Among the outstanding activities has been the basketball league made up of city and county Hi-Y groups and other clubs. This year's trophy was won by the Russ Hi-Y. Social activities included hayrides, house parties, barbecues, and joint meetings with Girl Reserve groups, while service projects included the purchase of war bonds, giving of Christmas presents to boys at the Children's Home, delivering posters for war relief groups, and presenting the school with a new basketball scoreboard. This well balanced program is woven around the Hi-Y creed of clean sportsmanship, clean scholarship, and clean living.—Frank Hall, San Diego Hi-Y President

Annual—Although some schools had to give up their annuals in this third year of war, SDHS produced a small book for the class of January '44. A pictorial pilgrimage to those spots which we of Hilltop hold most dear provided the theme of the book. Scholarship was stressed in a special four page supplement featuring those senior A's on the honor roll.—Nancy Hamblen, Editor

Sports in War-time—King Football occupied the limelight during the fall semester. The gridmen started with the proverbial roar but were tamed in some measure by losses to Hoover and Sweetwater to finish in a tie for second place in the Victory League. In his first year at the Hill, Coach Bill Bailey took over the wheel of the pigskin machine and moulded the Castle hefties into a promising aggregation. High point of the season was the "big game" when the Cards and Cavemen collided for the loop grid crown in the final tussle of the year. The Red Birds nabbed the encounter and the championship from the Hillers with a sterling pass play.

Varsity Football Scores: San Diego 14, Grossmont 0; San Diego 21, La Jolla 13; San Diego 13, Coronado 0; San Diego 0, Sweetwater 6; San Diego 14, Point Loma 0; San Diego 3, Hoover 7.

triumphs to hang up one of their most successful seasons in recent years. Coach Bill Patten's eleven dropped a 7-0 heartbreaker to the Hoover jay-vees for the only loss of the year. Earlier in the season they had defeated Hoover by the same score.

Junior Varsity Football Scores: San Diego 7, Brown Military 6; San Diego 25, Grossmont 0; San Diego 7, Hoover 0; San Diego 33, Point Loma 6; San Diego 6, La Jolla 0; San Diego 0, Hoover 7.

Coach John Brose's Hilltop hardwood aggregation rambled to a 32-18 triumph over the Hoover cage crew in the first of a series of non-league basketball frays before Christmas vacation. The Brosemen also toppled a spirited alumni five, 35-28, and played numerous games with ranking service quintets. Victory League competition was slated to begin January 7.

Coach Bill Patten's cross country team, hampered by the absence of Ralph Phillips and Clem Macevicz in many meets, compiled a drab record with only two wins to their credit and five losses against them.—Don Carter, Sports Editor

The Scholarship Honor Roll of the Class of January, 1944, has been compiled in the office of the high school. This record is based on the work of five senior high school semesters. All students whose semester grades of "A" (superior) number eleven or more are placed on the honor roll.

Because "getting good grades" is "helping the war effort," the annual staff is honoring the seven members of the graduating class who have made superior scholastic records.

Dear Roger,
You're one of the nicest and the most super-swell fellows I know.
We've had loads of fun together ever since we first met. Sure hope it continues.

As a basketball player, your rate, in my opinion, and in plenty of other ways your "tops", too!

Roger, I really want to wish you success in everything you do. If anyone deserves it, you do.
Keep up the old spirit and go and you'll make your goal with flying colors. You've got what it takes to get places, so make good use of it.
Your new hair cut really shows me quite a-bit!! I'm glad you finally got one.
The awards you received for graduation were well earned, I know. Just be sure you keep right on getting more and better ones.

As a closing thought I'd like to add that it was really my lucky day when I met you, hope you feel the same.

Your (you know what, Marian)
Written on the eve of the sixteenth week of a wonderful acquaintance!
